Important Update for DEMA Show Attendees and Exhibitors Regarding Hurricane Irma

DEMA Show will be open for business as planned on Wednesday November 1.

Our priority, as always, is to ensure the safety of our attendees, exhibitors and partners and to provide the best safeguards for your business.

DEMA has no plans to cancel or postpone DEMA Show due to Hurricane Irma. The DEMA Board has approved Disaster Assistance Funds for exhibitors and buyers located in the impact areas to make it easier for them to attend and exhibit at the show, allowing them to continue making their customers aware that their businesses remain in operation. The Orange County Convention Center has also posted a web page for updates from the convention center, at www.occc.net/irma.

We have everyone impacted by Irma and Harvey in our thoughts. Please consider donating to established charities that will be helping in the recovery efforts from Hurricanes Harvey and Irma, such as the American Red Cross, the Salvation Army, local charities, and others.

Sincerely,
